HONDO BOY RECEIVES WINGS AND COMMISSION

Headquarters Army Air Forces Gulf Coast Training Center, RANDOLPH FIELD, TEXAS, June 26.

Frederick, Okla., today hatched its first brood of pilots to swell by hundreds of flyers the graduation total of the Gulf Coast Training Center's sixth 1943 crop of aerial destruction experts.

The addition of Frederick's new school to the Gulf Coast Training Center brings to eleven the pilot factories operating in the great Southwest. Bomber and fighter pilots, trained to hair-trigger perfection in the art of modern aerial warfare, receive silver wings today, not only from Frederick, but from Altus, Okla., and from Aloe, Brooks, Pampa, Lubbock, Blackland, Ellington, Eagle Pass, Moore and Foster fields, all in Texas.

Today's simultaneous graduation exercises add thousands of American youths from all over the nation to the throbbing AAF armada which is carrying relentless warfare to the Axis over measureless global areas.

In the current graduating class is Marvin Leinweber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Leinweber of Hondo, who has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant and the silver wings of a fighter pilot. Lt. Leinweber graduates at Foster Field, Victoria, Texas. He received his primary and basic training at Coleman, Texas, and the W. J. Army Flying School.

A headline event Saturday morning will be a mass flight of 45 navigation training ships, competing in groups of 15 ships in a simulated bombing mission employing Hondo's best pilot and student navigators. About the time the planes return to the field, a formal review of military personnel will be staged.

MASS NAVIGATION FLIGHT AT HONDO SLATED FOR FIELD'S ANNIVERSARY

Shortly after dawn Saturday, July 3, 45 twin-engine navigation training ships will take off from Hondo Army Air Field, Hondo, Tex., to wage hot aerial competition over West Texas terrain, while on the ground thousands of visitors will join military and civilian personnel of the AAF's largest navigation school in observing the post's first anniversary.

Long before daybreak, skilled maintenance crews will check and double-check each ship to be sure that all is in readiness for the mass flight. Just before the contest begins, spectators will get an accurate picture of what goes on at an overseas airbase as an Allied Nations bombardment group prepares to launch a block-busting assault on distant enemy factories and military targets.

The post operations officer and his assistants will be busy checking weather conditions, giving flight leaders last-minute instructions and insuring that each navigator is fully acquainted with the course to be flown, the ETA (estimated time of arrival over target) and other pertinent details.

Each of Hondo Army Air Field's three groups will be represented on the demonstration flight by 15 of its best pilot and 15 outstanding student navigators. Fifteen planes from each group will tackle the navigation problem. One of the pilots from each group will act as flight leader, and another will assume the role of assistant flight leader. From each group of student navigators there will be selected a flight navigator and an assistant flight navigator. One navigation instructor from each group will be appointed group navigator, and will act as coach during the contest mission for the students in his group.

The flight brief will be given to flight leader and their assistants Friday night, July 2, during a conference with the post operations officer. Each flight leader will order his pilots and navigators to report to the flight line at 7:00 a. m. Saturday, where the take-off will await the order of the contest judges.

To witness the navigation contest flight and other special Organization Day events at Hondo Army Air Field, visitors will be permitted to enter the post shortly before 7:00 a. m., when they will be directed to the flight line by soldiers on traffic duty. A special officer delegation from the school's cadet detachment will head an entourage of 17-year-old boys from Medina County and the San Antonio area. These young men will be taken on a tour of the navigation training base and will receive full details concerning the Army Air Forces Reserve Corps, which now receives boys of 17, who have not yet attained the age of 18, for membership. With the consent of their parents, these young air-minded men will be given an opportunity to enter air crew training with the AAF as soon as they become 18 years of age.

The mass navigation flight will be staged principally for the interest of the 17-year-old special guests of the navigation air base. The contest mission will begin at approximately 7:00 a. m., and by 10:30 a. m. the formations of B-34's, AT-7's and C-60's are scheduled to arrive over the target.

While the mission is in progress, participating plane may patrol individually, or in echelons of not more than three planes. All ships will on the field, post headquarters, in rendezvous over a designated point der that departure of all contestants might be simultaneous. Each ship, or formation of ships, will be given a definite flight altitude. The flight navigator of each group of 15 planes will give his flight leader the time of departure from the starting rendezvous, and direct the formation to the target. Other pilots will maintain the formation, and other navigators will maintain individual logs, although they will follow the computations of the flight navigator. Navigators may use all navigational aids available to complete the contest mission successfully.

The director of navigation training at Hondo Army Air Field will designate six impartial judges for the contest. One judge will ride with each flight leader and one judge will ride with each assistant flight leader. Upon landing, the judges will get together and pool their observations and opinions to determine which flight has demonstrated the greatest skill and efficiency in charting the course of the simulated bombing run.

Judges will not in any way coach, advise or interfere with the work of any of the flying contestants. At the conclusion of the flight, preparations will be under way on the east ramp of the flying field for a military review, and high-ranking officers on the reviewing stand will make certain observations concerning the returning flights, to supplement the judging of the event.

The military review will begin at 11:00 a. m., and will be received by Lt. Col. George B. Dany, post commander, and visiting military dignitaries. During this ceremony, the Distinguished Flying Cross will be presented to 1st Lt. Robert O. Berger of Chicago, who has been cited for 204 hours of combat navigation in the Southwest Pacific aboard a B-17. Lt. Berger is now attending instructors' school at Hondo.

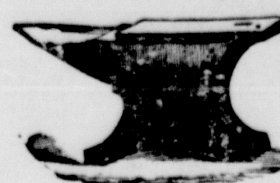

The review will be concluded with the awarding of a cabinet model radio to the Hondo squadron which is adjudged to be the winner of a post-wide squadron area beautification contest.

Saturday's Organization Day events will be preceded on Friday by a day devoted to sporting events and social gatherings on the post, although the training functions of the navigation airbase will continue to operate as usual.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

What to do with our war plants when peace comes is something where we can keep our eye peeled. Disaster can sneak in on us. Our supply of super-planners is big. Our stock of order-giving Bureau Boys don't intend to get out and do any kind of hard work if they can avoid it. It has been quite comfortable just thinking up stuff for the rest of us to do. That is where the war plants come in—when peace comes. Plans will blossom. Grand plans. They will sound rosy. Instead of salvaging the plants and selling the parts like left-over copper, or canned beef, etc., we will see plans for the Govt. taking over and running some kind of new project. It will be socialism, but they won't dwell on that angle. And by pushing the Govt. into a project the "thinking-up-grand-idea" boys will run the shebang and will stay on the pay roll.

The gent with the waxed mustache and the 3 shells and the little pea—on the old circus lot—was there to fool us. He said so. But the clever gentry there on the Potomac—they pose as holy.

Yours with the low down,

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

BY JOE LAW

Hondo lost a valuable citizen this week when Lloyd Murdock, Vocational Agriculture Instructor of the Hondo High School, left the City to take up his new duties as Vocational Agriculture Instructor at Hammon, Oklahoma. During the year's time he has been connected with the Hondo High School he has formulated and established a three-year program of agricultural study and practice for farm youths of this area. Evidence of his ability as an agricultural instructor is revealed by his success here in Hondo and the attractive offer which the Oklahoma school made him. The Future Farmer program has as its objective—Making Master Farmers out of farm youths attending high school with agricultural interest and aptitudes.

H. C. Richards, Supt. of the Hondo City Schools, shares credit in this constructive program because he has collaborated with Lloyd Murdock in this work. During two inspections of the local work, Mr. Perrian, National Vocational Agricultural Supt. whose headquarters are in Washington, D. C., stated that the Hondo High School was given the distinction of having the unique and best arranged shop program in the U. S.

The fact that there has been as many as 5 high schools in the county with programs of Vocational Agriculture is evidence that instructors like Murdock have been more than productive in their work.

The Hondo Army Air Field will observe its first anniversary July 2 and 3. Lt. Col. G. B. Dany, commander of the Army Air Forces Navigation School, has invited the business men and citizens of Hondo to attend all of these events. The gates will be open to visitors at 1 p. m. Friday and at 7 a. m. Saturday. Military demonstrations, sports, and social events round out a full program and no pass is needed to enter the post at anytime during the two day event during the hours mentioned.

Hondo should not only attend as many of these events as possible but show through their attendance how much they appreciate the post and the personnel of the field.

The Chamber of Commerce representing the business men and citizens will have a part on the program. R. C. Rath,

Washington Snapshots

by JAMES PRESTON

All statements and opinions in this column are Mr. Preston's own and do not necessarily represent those of this paper.—M. E.

Two developments that have come to the surface this past week are of particular significance to business men. One concerns the Connally Bill which as now drafted by a Senate-House Conference Committee should contribute to a reduction of strikes that have siewed up war production. The other is the New Deal's latest move to strengthen its control over the policies and operations of the War Production Board.

—WSS—

As approved by the Conference Committee, the Connally Bill would (1) require a 30-day cooling-off period before a strike may be called and a secret strike ballot, (2) prohibit political contributions by labor unions, (3) provide a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine or one year's imprisonment, or both, to instigators or leaders of strikes called in plants seized and operated by the government, (4) grant the War Labor Board statutory standing and empower it to subpoena witnesses and documents, and (5) require that the Board conform to the Wagner Act and other applicable labor statutes in its decisions and findings.

—WSS—

The movement among New Dealers to strengthen their control over war production has been connected by some observers with the creation of the Office of War Mobilization. Some New Dealers have felt that such posts should have been filled from among their ranks or at least from the ranks of certain financial circles.

—WSS—

Industry as a whole and industrial representatives loaned to the government since the start of the rearmament program, according to well-informed lawmakers, have combined to bring about an achievement of arms production that has won the admiration and respect of the entire world, and of American voters in particular.

—WSS—

The acclaim that has been accorded to industry for its accomplishment is known to have piqued some of the more sensitive New Dealers, who feel that their political party was unjustly cut out of the credit. They do not believe this contributes to a very good stage-setting for the opening of the 1944 political campaign. Informed Congressmen say it is the New Dealers' hope that they can take over more of the direction of war production planning.

—WSS—

While it is a question as to whether or not they can do it, the New Dealers, according to these Congressmen, seek to push the bonafide industrial planners and production men further and further into the background. The industrialists in government, however, who are the objectives of this drive, have won influential friends in Congress, many of whom would go to bat for them if the going became too hard.

—WSS—

In cooperation with the industrial planners serving the government, industry is taking the initiative at this critical stage of strain on the industrial economy to preserve the American business plant as much as possible. One example of this activity is the voluntary and increasingly widespread practice of a preponderant number of large war contractors to spread business to thousands of smaller firms. This action is widely acclaimed in Congressional circles.

LOCAL MAN BUYS REGISTERED JERSEY

A registered Jersey cow has been purchased by Sidney James Boehme, of Rio Medina, from Leonard B. Wright, of Pleasanton, Texas. The name of the animal is Boehme Royal Lady 1379373. The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by The American Jersey Cattle Club, with offices in New York City. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey Breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to fingerprinting, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known. Jerseys make up 42% of all dairy cows in the United States. Because they produce the world's richest milk, and because there are more Jerseys than any other breed in America, their role in National Defense is an important one. Increased production of Jersey milk guarantees the protective food needs of here and abroad.

"Will my call to X-ville* delay a war call?"

Traveler: I thought maybe ordinary, personal long distance calls were out for the duration.

Operator: No, indeed! X-ville is only sixty miles away. We hardly ever have delays to near-by towns where there are no big camps or factories.

Traveler: That's fine, I do want to call, but it's not terribly important, mind you!

Operator: Believe me, we appreciate the way everybody tries to help. The operator will always tell you if others are waiting for the line. She'll ask that you limit your calls to five minutes.

*To telephone users: "X-ville" stands for any town within about 100 miles of here which is not busy with war work and not near big cantonments.

QUIHI NOTES

Fear not; I am the first and the last; I am the first and the last; I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore; and have the keys of hell and of death. Rev. 1:17,18.

Fear not! A timely word. Fear is clawing many a heart, in spite of the sunny and happy reports poured on daily. A timely word, not by one who is trying to put on a "brass front" and conceals his own status of mind and heart, but by One Who alone has right and reason and authority to say the word. Others may lull themselves to sleep with wishful predictions or "grasp the skirts of happy chance" and imagine to see guiding stars in day-time. They'll not banish that fear of impending calamities or the account they must give some day.

Fear not, says He, the First of all that we know in this created world with its developments, its successes and failures, its joys and its heart-aches. He is the Last. But a few years and the armies are at rest; the last commands have died away; the mighty have laid their glory in a simple casket; the present and the future generations are no more. He is the Last that speaks the last word and makes the last decision over friend and foe, without recourse or appeal.

He that liveth, and was dead. Reckless ruffians have tried their hands at Him. He returned from the grave. He broke the majesty of all-consuming death. He is still living, controlling, reigning and leading, though, at present, other powers seem to have snatched away the scepter from His hands, and build their own "Tower of Babel" on foundations and with methods of their own choice.

Fear not, says He Who has the keys of hell and of death. He holds them forever. These keys are clanking and rattling every day for high and low, for hero and coward, for the mocker and the pious; nowadays more and louder than ever before. Thereby hangs the tale, the ground and the reason of that Fear. Sneering will not be clearing the situation. Call it war on nerves, the T. B. of uncertainty or the cancer of fear, it's going on, it's eating its way into the very vitals and vitality. It takes a strong remedy and antidote to cure. One who was cured sings and pleads, Other refuge have I none; hangs my helpless soul on Thee; leave, ah, leave me not alone, still support and comfort me! All my trust on Thee is stayed, all my help from Thee I bring; cover my defenceless head with the shadow of Thy wing.

A few news items at random. Mr. August Brucks has been bothered with a persistent fever that kept him from work for some time. —Kenneth Grell, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Grell, needed medical care, but he has nicely improved. —Another baby-girl has arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winkler, and we found everybody happy over the addition. —Elmer Hartmann, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hartmann, a student at the University of Texas at Austin, is enjoying a brief vacation and getting ready for a long period of military training at Georgetown, and, then, to join the millions that do our fighting over the globe. The blessings of the Lord be upon them all.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Yes, I'm afraid there's no denyin' it, Judge... jeeps and trucks and other kinds of motorized equipment have taken the place of the good old horse in modern warfare."
"It's true of lots of things in this war, Eben. Every day we hear of new tactics and requirements and new uses of products. For instance, take the alcohol that is used for war purposes. In World War 1, this vitally needed product was used mostly in making smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials and medical supplies. Today it must do far more... it must provide the base for such indispensable products as synthetic rubber, shatterproof glass, lacquers, plastics and many other of our requirements so essential to victory.

"As a result hundreds of millions of gallons are required every year... half of which is being produced by the beverage distilling industry. Bet you didn't know that, Eben."
"As a matter of fact, I didn't, Judge. That's a mighty important war contribution that had escaped me completely."

Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

following information: "Southern

I have been working with the Gov-

NEWS NOTES FROM THE NAVIGATION SCHOOL

physical training staff at Hondo Army Air Field, announced today that the public will be invited to witness a full day of baseball and track events Friday, July 2, as the big navigation training base opens a two-day session of special event in connection with its first anniversary observance.

Headlining the sports attractions will be an exhibition baseball game between the Hondo Comets and the Normoyle Ordinance Depot nine. Randall stated that the mound assignments for the navigators will fall to either Clinton Hartung, Hondo's ace hurler, or to Mario Errante, either of whom can be counted on to do a good show for the fans. Normoyle's pitcher has not yet been announced.

The Hondo-Normoyle tilt will take place at 5:30 Friday afternoon on the Comets' diamond. A record crowd of military personnel and civilian visitors from the San Antonio area is expected to be on hand for the anniversary tilt.

Preceding this game, Hondo's colored nine, the Brown Comets, will play host to Randolph Field's Brown Ramblers on the post diamond, with eighthander Pfc. Johnny Gilmore of the 991st Aviation squadron doing the pitching job for the Hondo squad. Time for the contest will be 3 p. m.

Lt. William Calog, in charge of the navigation cadet detachment physical training program, will put three topnotch cadet track teams on the field at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Each cadet has been engaged for two weeks in an elimination schedule to select its track team members, and they will enter the competition at the post baseball diamond as the Reds, Whites and Blues. Enlisted men's teams will also compete in the meet by inter-squadron contests.

Track events will include the 100 and 50-yard dashes, 220 and 440-yard relays, shot put, high jump and broad jump. Participating in the 100-yard dash will be Cadet L. D. Hines of Group II, who won first place in this event when the Hondo cadet track meet met the San Marcos navigation school team at Hondo last week.

The track meet will move rapidly in order to clear the post diamond for the baseball games to follow.

At 4 p. m., Hondo Field will see its first WAAC softball game. Behind the pitching of Auxiliary Ella Hunter, champ hurler of the 743rd Hondo WAAC Hq. Co., the Blonde Comets will play a WAAC team from the San Antonio military area. Third Officer Marian Swan, in charge of physical training for the navigation school's WAACs, has issued an invitation to the Kelly Field WAAC detachment to furnish competition for this feature game.

Hondo's all-star softball club, composed of outstanding enlisted men from various squadron teams, will meet Randolph's post softball team on the lighted field back of Hondo's post theater at 7 p. m.

Sports events for the day will be climaxed with miscellaneous athletic contests under the klieg lights, with all post athletes eligible for competition.

JOB APPLICANTS MAY ENTER HONDO FIELD

It was announced today that civilians who wish to apply for jobs at the navigation field may enter the post at the main gate daily at the hours of 9:00 and 11:30 a. m.

Such job applicants will be met at the times designated, and government vehicles will transport them to the proper employment office on the field.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLDS TO BE SPECIAL ANNIVERSARY GUESTS

Hondo Army Air Field has issued a special invitation to 17-year-old Medina county boys to visit the air-base Saturday morning to witness a mass navigation flight of 45 ships.

HASTINGS-WIEMERS WEDDING IN SAN ANTONIO

Baskets of white gladioli, palms and tapers burning in tall candelabra decorated the Travis Park Methodist Church, San Antonio, for the wedding Saturday evening, June 26th, of Miss Nelda Estelle Wiemers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wiemers of that city, and Warren Vernon Hastings, aviation cadet, Army Air Forces, a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Hastings of San Antonio. The Rev. Albert P. Shirkey officiated. Mrs. Harry Leap played the organ and accompanied Miss Lorraine DeArment who sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer net fashioned with a shirred bodice and yoke edged with fluted ruffles which also bound the wrists of the long fitted shirred sleeves. The bouffant skirt was gathered onto the hip-length bodice and extended into a full train. Her long veil was caught to a coronet of shirred illusion. She carried her "Rainbow" Bible topped with white orchids. Her single strand of pearls were a gift from the bridegroom. She also wore a pearl pin which had been given by her father to her mother at her wedding, and an antique dinner ring belonging to her grandmother.

Miss Jean McDonald was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Misses Margie Hastings, sister of the bridegroom; Phyllis Brisco, Pearl Slaughter, Ardye Pfanzell, Betty Zirkel and Toodie Muennink of Hondo. The junior bridesmaids were Misses Arlene Jane Wiemers, sister of the bride, and Bunny Dooley. They wore frocks of pastel yellow and blue sky marquisette and fresh flowers in their hair. Their Colonial bouquets were of matching flowers. Joy Cloonan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cloonan, was the flower girl, and the ringbearer was John Clifton Langendorff Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Langendorff.

Cadet Norman B. Watten was the best man and the groomsmen were Lt. Ray Coy, Cadets Herman F. Schumacker, Leslie O. Romp, Burton W. Seeley, Leo Karinsky, and Raymond M. Garrity, of Hondo. The ushers were Hermann Seele, Byron Brice, Sid Avant and Jim Avant.

A reception followed in the Tapestry Room of the St. Anthony Hotel. The table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli, and the double-ring cake.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Burney Dixon, Misses Lillie and Nellie Muennink of Hondo, Bessie Jean Comstock, Lenora Ann Thompson, Carol Comstock, Betty Henry, Mary Jane Hayward, Doris Bell, Violet Peland and Mrs. Smoky Sundemeyer. In charge of the bride's book were Mrs. French Ferguson and Miss Norma Spears.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Muennink, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Muennink, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muennink, Mr.

Let's help our farmer neighbors with their hauling problems

AMERICA'S farmers have the tremendous responsibility of raising more food this Summer than ever before in the nation's history.

Farm manpower is scarce. Every hour of every farmer's time is vital to victory. Let's help conserve it.

Don't keep any farmer waiting

Owners of stores, operators of markets, warehouses, elevators, terminals and processing plants, can aid substantially in the success of the "Food for Victory" program by expediting the loading and unloading of farm products.

Every farmer is an essential home front soldier. Don't keep him waiting. He has a long way to go and no time to waste.

Studebaker dealers are co-operating

Studebaker dealers go out of their way to help obtain parts for all makes of trucks.

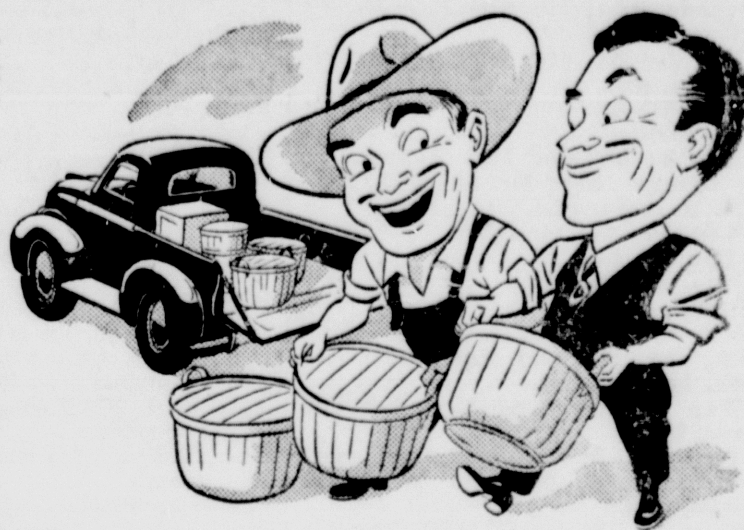

They co-operate further by handling special repair jobs for farmers as fast as possible.

Many Studebaker dealers have special facilities for locating used trucks, that have been idle or in part-time use, for sale to farmers.

Keep your car and truck up to par

All trucks and cars must be kept in good shape to safeguard the nation's vital transportation life lines. And that's especially important this Summer.

Drop in for regular inspections. Studebaker dealers' mechanics are Essential Transportation Workers who can spot and correct truck or car trouble before it becomes serious.

Ask for free copy of Studebaker's valuable, new, 48-page book, "Care and Maintenance of the Farm Truck"—or write Studebaker Truck Division, Dept. N, South Bend, Indiana.

MARY MAGDALENE

In the dark I tremble, yet not in fear.
 I am alone. All night, crouching here Besides this wild thorn-bush, I've prayed. I dare not sigh
 Lest guardsmen send me hence. Oh why Can't my weary heart bear the strain? Yesterday
 They laughed in mockery, and yet
 I'll say
 Before all men—yea, Caesar too—that Christ is God!
 I KNOW. And yet He's now entombed . . . how rich the sod
 That holds His form. Oh woe is me!
 For where Upon this earth is hope for me? How care
 I now to live? This place without the blessedness of Him
 Is void. Three days ago . . . yes hot silence, and then grim Darkness over all, and that blood-stained cross where They hanged Him. Those cruel ones, they had no care!
 Did not those rogues gamble for His clothes?
 How so innocent a man could have such foes?
 O misery to see it all again . . . Oh heart be still
 And listen. Is that a voice I hear?
 Oh will
 My tears not cease so I can see? But lo,
 It comes again, It is MY CHRIST!
 I know.
 His gentle voice intones my name.
 Rabonni! I hear
 Yet through my tears I cannot see Thee near.
 How strange the gardener looks at me!
 He thinks I have mistaken him FOR THEE.
 Yet Thou didst surely speak. I heard
 Thee Lord.
 Only Thy voice could lift my heart;
 only Thy word
 Could make me sing. For now I sing.
 O Lord Thou givest
 Me all hope—Thou art not dead.
 Thou LIVEST.
 —FRANCES E. GARZA.

LEINWEBER H. D. CLUB NEWS

The Leinweber Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Ash. Gilliam on June 23, with seven members, one visitor. Miss Velma Hambleton, County Home Demonstration Agent and Mr. Lloyd Murdock, agriculture teacher, present.
 The meeting was turned over to Mr. Murdock and Miss Hambleton. The former gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on grading eggs and budding and grafting. Miss Hambleton assisted him in these demonstrations.
 Mrs. George Koch was appointed the club's candidate for delegates to the Texas Home Demonstration Association. The members also gave a six months' report of their canned products.
 Following the business meeting a surprise birthday party was held for Miss Hambleton, showering her with lots of good things of the farm and out of the garden.
 Lunch was then served. After everyone was seated at the table the hostess entered the room with a beautifully decorated birthday cake which was set in front of the honoree, Miss Hambleton, and she cut the first slice. Lunch consisted of birthday cake, angel food cake and ice cream.
 The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Aug. Leinweber on July 28th at 2 o'clock.
17-YEAR-OLDS ELIGIBLE FOR MARINE CORPS
 SAN ANTONIO, June 28.—Seventeen-year-old boys of Hondo may now enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps, to be placed on inactive duty status and return to their homes for an indefinite period of time before being called to active duty, it was announced this week by Major D. M. Taft, Officer in Charge of the South Texas District. The enlistment quota, closed for several months, has been reopened, and 17-year-olds may take advantage of it if they lose no time in reporting to Marine enlistment offices in San Antonio, Houston or Austin.
 Three essential requisites, he pointed out are: 1. The candidates must be examined and sworn in before their eighteenth birthday; 2. They must have the written consent of their parents; 3. They must produce their birth certificates.
 Recruiting headquarters in this district are in the Post Office Building in Houston and Austin, and in the Bedell Bldg., 118 Broadway, San Antonio.
 W. B. Shelton of Mart (McLennan county), has become a big booster for Hubam clover as the result of experience gained on his own farm. "Growing corn on land that had been in Hubam clover caused an increase of 20 percent in corn production," he declared, and continued by pointing out that it makes soil looser, and further that compact soils will dry quicker after rains. Mr. Shelton said his Hubam is a good hay crop as well as fine for grazing and soil building. "Oats following Hubam makes 30 to 40 percent more than when following other crops," he added.
 —AAT—
 Sales of independent retail stores in Texas increased 22 per cent in March, 1943, over March, 1942, and 3 per cent over February. For the first three months of this year, sales were 25 per cent greater than those for a comparable period of 1942. During the month of March, the most sensational gains were made by dry goods and ready-to-wear stores.

10:30 A. M. English divine service.

Luther Leaguers, you are kindly reminded of the Good Faith offering. Please give your contribution by next Sunday.

As we completed the first half of 1943 with last Sunday, we thankfully remember the goodness and mercy of God, extended to us during these six months in a war torn world. Let us thank Him for offering us His Word and Sacraments without interruption by coming to God's house in full numbers. There has been evidence of a growth in interest in the building of God's Kingdom through our giving during the first half of the year, far surpassing records previously established. Let us get ready for the second half of the year and walk more closely to God than ever before.

We extend a cordial welcome to one and all to work and worship with us.

The church with a welcome.

Last Of The Indian Fighters

The above picture was made some thirty or more years ago, and shows the last of Medina County's Indian fighters who had sent a red-man to his "happy hunting ground". Standing is Edward Tschirhart, a sketch of whom follows. Seated is Xavier Wantz, a pioneer whose mother was murdered by the Indians but who evened the score somewhat by killing two or three Indians. Mr. Wantz passed away a number of years ago.

LAST OF INDIAN FIGHTERS GONE

When Edward Tschirhart passed away at his home in Castroville on Thursday, June 24, 1943, there passed from the scene the last of Medina County's Indian fighters. Born in Castroville on April 21, 1851, less than seven years after the first European immigrants established the settlement in September of 1844, he was among the earliest of those who could claim Castroville as the place of his nativity. During the 92 years, two months and three days of his life's span he remained a citizen of that town, and witnessed the many changes that have marked its colorful history, from a struggling frontier settlement to the modern progressive village it is today. He remembered well when the Indians were still friendly with the early settlers. Later he learned to fear and dread them after they had become merciless, marauding enemies. When a young man of 22 years, while freighting by mule team to the outlying army posts for the government, a marauding band of Indians attacked his camp at night with the evident intent of stampeding and driving away their animals. His older brother, Joseph Tschirhart, now deceased, and one or more others were in the party. But Mr. Tschirhart had evidently been placed on guard for he was alone, and nearest the wagons and the teams when the attack came. The Indians evidently were unaware of his presence, for the Indian chief rode boldly in among the corralled animals, yelling and firing a pistol into the air. He was plainly visible in the moonlight and close to where Mr. Tschirhart was crouching in the shadow of a wagon. Resting his rifle against the wagon wheel, he shot the chief, killing him instantly and dropping him from his horse. Their chief dead, the other Indians ran away and the camp was saved from further annoyance. This occurrence took place near Fort McKavett some 150 miles northwest of Castroville and was among the last if not the last armed clash between the Indians and a resident of Medina County.

He could relate many interesting and hair-raising experiences of the early days while driving the trail from San Antonio, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and Mexico City. Such round trips, with heavily loaded wagons drawn by mule teams, took as much as six months to make.

In 1875 he was married to Miss Katherine Jungman who died three years afterwards in February 1879, leaving him with two children, John, who now lives at Lefors, Texas, and Mary Gertrude. Three years later, in 1882, he married Anna Stenepel. To them were born three children: Robert, who died in infancy; Clotilda, now Mrs. John L. Mechler of Southtown, Texas, and Julius of Castroville. Since the death of his second wife in September 1907, he had lived a widower remaining in his old home until the end came. He continued a very active man until the infirmities of age overtook him. For the last three months of his life he was confined to his bed, patiently accepting his pain and suffering, until the angel of death closed his eyes in his last long sleep.

Besides his surviving children, he leaves to mourn his departure twenty grandchildren, 27 great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild. Only one brother out of the entire family of brothers and sisters survive, August Tschirhart, of Castroville. Their one sister, Mrs. Mary Groff, preceded him in death several years ago.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, June 26, 1943, at 9:30 o'clock from the Tondre funeral home, thence to the St. Louis Church with Rev. Dean J. Lenzen officiating. The body was laid to rest in the St. Louis Cemetery. Pallbearers were Omer Tschirhart, Oscar Groff, Gabe Hans, Ralph Tschirhart, Sam Tschirhart, and Howard Tschirhart. Cross-bearer was Elroy Tschirhart.

8:00 p. m. at Devine to discuss the proposed Medina County Board of Development and the County Health Unit. A group of Lions Club members at Natalia have been invited to join the group meeting. Members wishing to join the group are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce office regarding transportation and time of departure from the city.

BLUEPRINTS for VICTORY

Day and night America's designers and draftsmen work on our blueprints for victory. Every factory, airfield and implement of war must first be put on paper by the men who toil over the drawing boards. Because of their planning America was able to rush into production so fast.

Because of their dreams there'll be a new world to live in after the war. All honor to those who chart roads to victory and beyond.
